Introduction to Life

A five-day workshop.

Sponsored by "Two Cents of Hope"

A workshop based on a unique blend of ancient and modern wisdom.

Human Relationships

Dissect the human complexity using the COLORS concept of ancient India. Use it to improve your effectiveness in your personal life, family life and in your career.

Magic of the Mind

Make sense of the complexity and contradictions inside of you using the 'pancha kosa' concept of ancient India combined with the developments in anthropology, biology and psychology.

Opportunities and constraints

Get simple and elegant picture of the world you live in, based on a model derived from ancient wisdom of India and modern research into sociology, biology and humanities. This simple picture will help you understand the opportunities and constrains of the world, essential for advancement in your career or entrepreneurial dreams.

Growth patterns

Growth spurts occur throughout life. Understand the dynamics of the growth spurts. Plan your life around growth spurts. Manage expectations about yourself better.

Balancing Life

Understand the concept of the 'four primary urges' of ancient India. Learn how to balance them to stay calm and cool and 'in-control' all the time.

Gods, Religions and Spirituality

Get deep insights into how and why Gods, Religions and Spirituality evolve and how they are related to your personality color, family life and social life.

Male and Female

Crack the puzzling behavior of the opposite gender using the 'male-female polarity' concept of ancient India, which traces them back to the polarities in the universe. Everything the other gender does will makes sense and becomes enjoyable.

An investment in yourself.
For a successful, happy and stress-free life.
